Sirhan Parole Unlikely Now Calif. Aide Says

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Nov. 17 (UPI) — The California Adult Authority next week will consider the possibility of parole for Sirhan Sirhan, 28, convicted assassin of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

A spokesman for the State Department of Corrections said Thursday the hearing is "routine" and the chances of the board setting a date for parole were "virtually nil."

"They might discuss with him (Sirhan) the things they want him to do for a possible parole date in the future," said San Quentin Prison associate warden James Park. "But what can you tell an assassin?"
